

Naphill & Walter's Ash Summer Fete 18th June 2011

Despite the wind and rain we managed to erect the gazebo without it blowing away – just.

Having just erected the gazebo. Photo by Kevin Bennett

Ready for visitors. Photo by Peter Davis

As the floats arrived the rain stopped and the sun came out – not for long. During the afternoon the rain and wind came over several times. The good news was that it did not seem to deter people from coming to the fete and when it did rain people needed somewhere to shelter – and we had shelter.

We had set out a quiz – ‘Can you name the trees from which these leaves come’. It was aimed at the children but we soon found out that most of the adults could not name them.

‘Can you name the trees’. Photo by Peter Davis

We also had a display stand and other literature for people to look at and take away. Several people joined ‘Friends of Naphill Common’ which was good news. Many people were very interested about our Common and we were able to provide them with information.

Display boards. Photo by Peter Davis

Packing up was difficult because of the wind – we very nearly lost the gazebo at this point. Many thanks to all those who helped during the day.